

What will I study?

The course offers a variety of topics, a selection of which students will study in order to develop their knowledge of straightforward language. These topics are divided into four main contexts -

- Context 1: Literature
- Context 2: Language
- Context 3: Media
- Context 4: Culture

What skills will I develop?

- Listening, reading, talking and writing in Gàidhlig
- Understanding, analysing and evaluating straightforward texts
- An ability to create and produce straightforward texts
- An ability to apply knowledge of language
- A knowledge of Gàidhlig cultural heritage and the cultural heritage of others

How will I be assessed?

There are three mandatory units which you will need to pass -

Understanding language tests your reading and listening skills

Producing language tests your talking and writing skills

Literacy tests your ability to communicate ideas and information orally and in writing

There is no external examination at the end of the session

Possible Careers

Need more info? -

Nationals in a Nutshell

What help is National 4 Gàidhlig after school?

The course may provide progression to:

- Other qualifications in Gàidhlig or related areas
- Further study, employment or training